

Boston, Dec. 5.—The bark William H. Basson and ship Arahua have arrived. The former from Manila and the latter from Calcutta. The former had a voyage of 185 and the latter 139 days. Capt. Baker of the former says his bark was directly in the vicinity of Anjers at the time of the terrible disaster which killed thousands, and changed the face of the land in and around Sunda Straits. He left Batavia Aug. 16, and the following morning at daylight those on deck noticed a heavy bank issuing from the west, and obscuring the sun. At this time the barometer dropped to 29.40, and again suddenly rose to 30.70. All hands were called and sail taken off as fast as possible. Heavy showers of sand and ashes commenced falling, completely covering the decks, masts and spars to a depth of several inches. By noon it had become darker than dark at night, and commenced to blow a hurricane; but strange as the sea remained perfectly smooth. Heavy rumblings, like distant thunder, was continually heard, and at intervals the sky was lighted by lightning flashes, and a strong smell of sulphur permeated the atmosphere, and made it difficult to breathe. All hands were affected by the awful scene, and many of the sailors thought the world was coming to an end. Throughout the gale the tide set strongly to the westward, and the bark drove through the water at the rate of 14 knots per hour. At 3 p. m. the sky commenced to grow a little lighter, but the ashes continued to fall like snow. The following day the bark entered the Straits of Sunda and the extent of damage done was plainly to be seen. Whole islands had sunk, and those that remained had changed in form. The northwestern part of Krakatis Island had disappeared, and Velatien, and Long Island, heretofore covered with trees, were completely a bare. They saw a large number of dead bodies, and the water for miles around was covered with trees and dead bodies. The sea for 60 miles was a field of lava. They experienced a hurricane from the north and northeast, with a tremendous sea, which lasted three days. During this time the decks and cabin were flooded with water, and a portion of the bulwarks, and everything movable on deck were washed away. The most fearful thing of all was the sea of corpses. For nearly three days we came across body after body of persons who had lost their lives in the earthquake. One man counted 60 in plain sight at once. Thousands must have perished.

QUAINT SAYINGS OF "OLD GOV. NYE."
—Ben Perley Poore, in an interesting sketch of Senator Nye, of Nevada, says: "Nye was not particularly witty in debate, and the speeches of Proctor Knott, McCreery, or Sam Cox were funnier than his were; neither had he any Senatorial dignity whatever. He had in his place, a vast store of humor and genial humanity—better articles—that brought in love all that he had lost in respect. He had more humor than wit, although many of his good things possessed the sharp acintillations of the last mentioned article, as when Horace Greely sat down on the Senator's new hat, and picking up the crushed stovepipe, he said gravely: 'I could have told you it wouldn't fit before trying it on.' Or when, at a dinner, emotional insanity was being discussed, he remarked: 'I admit the right of the injured husband to vindicate his marriage bed by murdering right and left, but after such vindication, he should come out and be hanged like a gentleman, for society has a right to vindicate the law. We must harmonize between the rights of husband and hangman.'"

The New York World prints an interview with Tilden, in which he stated that under his will the Gramercy Park House and his splendid library and collections will be left in trust to the city for a public library.

THE PIOCHE WEEKLY RECORD.

VOL. XXVII. PIOCHE, NEV., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1883. NO. 14

THE OUTLOOK.

The year 1883, now drawing to a close, has been fruitful of physical and elemental disturbances, and Mother Earth has had such a bad shaking and blowing up as she has not before experienced in a long time; but, in 1884, the disturbances and upheavals are to be of a social and political nature, and are to be quite as remarkable in their ways as "earthquake's shock or ocean's rage."

The greatest excitement will prevail throughout Russia and in Europe. The peaceful coronation of Alexander III marked the issuance of a new programme on the part of the Nihilists. The answer to that magnificent, but bought and paid for spectacle, was the voluntary demonstration at the funeral of Turgeneff, when 200,000 people gathered at the grave of a man hated and proscribed by the Imperial government. The policy of secret and undermining work of assassination, has been generally abandoned. The next thing will be a popular uprising in favor of constitutional government. If the Czar yields, well and good; if not, then one of two things is to happen, the rising will be crushed as the Hungarian revolt against Austria in 1848; or a long and bloody struggle to last for years will begin. The final result will be the establishment of the great Pan-Slavic Confederation, with Russia as its head.

In Germany there will be a steady peaceful agitation against the present military policy which keeps the Empire a barracks and a camp, attended by other evils which are driving thousands of Germans to America. The genius of Bismarck may succeed in keeping this agitation, within narrow bounds; but he is growing old; is out of health; and his death may occur at any moment. A war is the only excuse that will keep up the tremendous drain on the resources of the Empire in the shape of the army.

In France there is no danger to the cause of the Republic. The Count de Chambord and Napoleon III are not more dead than Bourbonism and Bonapartism, but the middle class, common sense people, of whom there are many in France, must be heard. Expensive and resultless forays in Tunis, Madagascar and Tonquin must stop. They cost money and bring no glory. Neither is Athens in the belief of the French people. The church must be, if not revered, at least politely treated. A government will be installed in 1884, which will attend to these matters.

In Spain there is to be a revolution peaceable or forcible. None of the wretched brood of Isabella can be permitted to reign. Castelar and the conservative Republicans will come to the front.

In Turkey the process of decay will go on, and the spoilers will wait around the bed of the "Sick Man." Egypt will be permanently occupied by England, and become a British possession, as much so as Bombay or Madras. Russia will be unable to interfere, and the British protectorate over Asia Minor will become a real and effectual sovereignty. A British viceroy, a man of Jewish descent, will be installed at Jerusalem.

In England there will be no outward changes, only there will be a deepening of the disgust felt for monarchy. To outward seeming things will go on as usual. The Kingdom of Italy will grow and prosper through the spread of education and the relief of the country from over-population by Italian emigration to America. Mexico will generally prosper though there will be an expiring struggle of the Greaser against the advancing civilization. There will be a massacre or two by the scum, who in their turn will be savagely whipped by the Government troops. In the course of the year Mexican capitalists are to wake up, and not leave the development of their country entirely to Americans. There will also be a Catholic "revival of religion" in Mexico.

There will be considerable stir in China, growing out of the war with France, which will be a sort of drawn fight, which will stimulate the Chinese to discard gongs as a weapon of war, and the substitution thereof of Remington rifles. What has happened in Japan will occur in China.

An old village lady who had arrived at the advanced age of ninety-two last her son, who was seventy-two. "I expected it," she cried. "I never thought that I could raise him."

OFFICE OF OSGOODBY'S IMPROVED SAFES, 17 S. Broad Street, ATLANTA, Ga., October 17th, 1883.
DR. RUSH'S MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.
DEAR DOCTORS.—The three bottles of "Dr. Rush's Regulator" I ordered were received by express last week. I have taken nearly one bottle, and am thoroughly satisfied with the result. For over two years I have been troubled with sharp pain in my heart. My physician, upon examination, pronounced it enlargement of the heart, and was unable to give me any relief. The trouble grew worse until I had become convinced that I could not be cured. While in New York City, last week, I called upon one of the most prominent physicians there, who charged me $25 for an examination and then recommended your "Regulator." Knowing you to be a regular Medical Association, and NOT A PATENT MEDICINE SCUM, I ordered the three bottles. I have not been troubled since I commenced taking it, but shall continue and take the entire three bottles so as to obtain a permanent cure. You have my sincere thanks.
Very respectfully,
Wm. G. OSGOODBY

Dr. Rush's "Regulator"

has never failed to give relief. It has been used successfully for years in subduing the most stubborn cases of heart difficulty. A positive cure for Enlargement, Palpitation, Fluttering and Fatty Degeneration of the Heart. Price, $1.00 per bottle; six for $5.00.
